

Well, I've got a point to make
Yes, I've got something to say

Try to right my wrongs of yesterday
But people holding on to their anger
Behind the eyes it's hatred
Those scars, how long they take to go away

Well, hear me, I can't believe you're sorry
I can't believe you're sorry
It's just another word I've heard you say
Well, now that I've pushed aside my feelings
You're back again to try and steal them
Why won't you just go away

Well, time can't erase all that you did to me
What you did to my mind
What you did to my mind
Well, nothing can erase all that you meant to me
Was it all in my mind
Was it all in my mind

What came so easily just tore apart my life
It blew in fast just like a haunting breeze
Now I'm left with why

Time can't erase all that you did to me
What you did to my mind
What you did to my mind
Well, nothing can erase all that you meant to me
Was it all in my mind
Was it all in my mind

Well, what came so easily just tore apart my life
It blew in fast just like a haunting breeze
