

We tied together
Twined us into one
But knots remember
To come undone
Slipping gently
Setting into sail
I tried to steady
To no avail

And if you walk away
Remember me as before
And if I go well
Know I had to go

You drift away from me, now baby
Don't drift away from me

The fraying tether
Severs as we sleep
Sometimes forever
Cannot keep

Delta knows that
River must part their ways
Into the paths of change
'Til all is emptied out to sea

The tide is changing
And you're gone
You drift away from me, now baby
You drift away from me
You just drift away
Something's not the same now, baby
Don't drift away from me

Once was not enough for love
Twice was not enough for love
But you're gone
But you're gone away

You drift away from me, now baby
You drift away from me
You just drift away
No, something's not the same now baby
Don't drift away from me
