

I didn't come this far
for you to make this hard for me.
And now you want to ask me "how"?

It's like -
How does your heart beat,
why do you breathe?
How does your heart beat,
and why do you breathe?

Why did you come here?
You weren't invited and you're on the outside - stay on the outside.
And now you want to ask me "why"?

It's like -
How does your heart beat,
and how do you cry?
How does your heart beat?

And there are some things that I like to figure out.
There are some things that I can do without -
You and, your letters are gone forever.

You and the people,
they were never friends,
never friends,
never friends.

With all the things that you could be,
you never could learn how to be me.
And now you want to ask me "how"?

It's like -
How does your heart beat,
why do you breathe?
How does your heart beat,
Why do you breathe?
How do you breathe?
