

I know your throat is raw from screamin
I know your eyes are sore from cryin
I know your people are absent from your life
I know you're pulling us down
I know you're screamin and your heart is breakin
And I know your need to be heard

And your night time company is to argue with a friend like me
And it's just as you need it to be
It needs to be

Fingers get weary from blamin
And your friends are all leary of savin you
Searchin for some handle to hang on
Or just a warmer wind
I know you're unhappy and you feel like dyin
And I know your need to be heard

And your night time company is to bully a friend like me
And that's just as you need it to be
It needs to be

People
Oh, people
The people
People
You've lied
Oh

And your night time company is to always be the friend in me
And that's just as you need it to be
I know your throat is raw from screamin
I know your eyes are sore from cryin
I know you're absent from my life
And I know you're pulling you down
