

I'm amused by the overwhelming choices
I guess the hardest part is knowing when to stop
I'm confused and I think I'm hearing voices
Things are happening so fast
Do I save the best for last
I'll have to play it by ear
I can't see that far from here
I'm defined by everything that I know
And I'm tempted by the rest
Is this just one big test
I'm not blind, but I wish I could see clearer
Memories tend to fade, so we'll take it day by day
I'll have to play it by ear
I can't see that far from here
Why don't we keep our eyes peeled
I'll have to play it by ear
I can't see that far from here
Why don't we keep our eyes peeled
I should've kept my lips sealed
