

Of all the things I've said, I like this the best
Of all the things I've meant, but never meant to say

Holding my breath through tunnels
Well I almost crashed
Holding my breath on the way home
Got my wish at last

All the times I've cried
I should have tried to be real
All the times I've cried
I wanted to tell you how I feel
I feel

Though I feel regret, I know that you regret this more
But I feel as if I've never had a crush before
And I never asked to feel this way, or put you off
But when you touch me I forgot and then I couldn't stop

Holding my breath through tunnels, well
I almost crashed
Holding my breath on the way home
What do I wish for now?
